 - ♦ The MUTCD establishes the national standards for the design, installation, operation, and maintenance of traffic control devices. Its status as a national standard is defined in the Code of Federal Regulations and state laws. Government entities with responsibility for traffic control devices are required to comply with the MUTCD. Dr. Hawkins' research activities have influenced the content of this document in several ways:
 - ♦ During 2012-2013, Dr. Hawkins led an effort to prepare a 20 year vision and strategic plan for the MUTCD. The formal document was approved in January 2014.
 - ♦ During 2010, Dr. Hawkins was a member of a small working group of 10 individuals who interacted directly with the Federal Highway Administration to address significant problems that have been identified in the 2009 MUTCD. As part of this working group, Dr. Hawkins prepared the first draft of several significant documents that were used to identify and explain the theoretical and practical challenges related to the problems.
 - ♦ As the chair of the Markings Technical Committee within the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Control Devices, Dr. Hawkins was responsible for leading the efforts in developing material that was incorporated into the 2009 edition of the MUTCD. These proposals were developed within his committee, reviewed and critiqued by the NCUTCD, revised, approved, and then submitted to the FHWA for use in the MUTCD rulemaking process.
 - ♦ Dr. Hawkins' research on sign conspicuity served as the basis for changes to the MUTCD regarding treatments for enhancing the visibility of traffic signs.
 - ♦ Dr. Hawkins' and Dr. Paul Carlson's research on minimum sign retroreflectivity formed the basis for a revision of the MUTCD that added minimum retroreflectivity guidelines to the MUTCD. This revision was published in a December 21, 2007 Federal Register notice. Drs. Hawkins and Carlson contributed to the developing the language and content of the Federal Register proposed rule notice, as well as a supplemental proposed rule. Dr. Hawkins also authored or co-authored several papers, research reports, and guidance documents that supported the content of the MUTCD revision. Establishing minimum retroreflectivity guidelines in the MUTCD is a significant issue for both public agencies and the private sector. These guidelines have also been mandated by Congressional action. They are controversial and subject to much scrutiny.
 - ♦ Dr. Hawkins' dissertation research influenced the organization and content of the warning sign chapter in the 2000 edition of the MUTCD (Chapter 2C). The content of the chapter was reorganized to reflect recommendations from the dissertation and several signs were added to the chapter on the basis of the recommendations.
- Sign Crew Field Book, Texas Department of Transportation, Austin, Texas, April 1998, revised to January 2000, new edition October 2009.
 - ♦ The TxDOT Sign Crew Field Book is used in TxDOT by all sign crews in the field and by TxDOT designers and engineers involved in sign design and decision making. As the PI of the project that developed and revised the field book, Dr. Hawkins played a significant role in developing the vision for the document and for creating the draft content. He also directed the process by which the draft material was vetted through a panel of TxDOT signing experts who provided valuable guidance in refining the content. The field book won a TxDOT award as a top research innovation and continues to be widely used today.

 - ♦ The TxDOT Freeway Signing Handbook provides detailed guidelines for the design, layout, and placement of freeway guide signs and related signs. The document is used by TxDOT personnel and consultants in road design and other projects. As the PI of the project that developed the field book, Dr. Hawkins guided the creation and preparation of the handbook.
- Pavement Marking Handbook, Texas Department of Transportation, Austin, Texas, August 2004.
 - ♦ The TxDOT Pavement Marking Handbook is used in TxDOT to guide personnel in the selection and maintenance of pavement markings. As the PI of the project that developed the field book, Dr. Hawkins guided the creating and preparation of the handbook. The handbook is posted on the TxDOT web site.
